Message:

No specific activity was conducted.

Of course we continue to conduct research at our salt lakes and run the field station and trying to improve it.

Previous year we purchased Doppler current velocity meters (WHS 600, 1200 and 16 MicroADV) which cost about 90000 USD. There are also other plans for new sophisticated equipment (e.g. FlowCam).

People from several Siberian institute and universities (Irkutsk, Novosibirsk) used the infrastructure of the field station to perform studies at salt lakes.

The brief note about Shira field station will be published in next SIL news issue.

We still hope to organize international summer school for salt lake young scientists with external funding but not this year.
