Should we discuss who is doing what, i.e. Peri offered to take over the web duties, as I recall.

What other activities need to be performed for ISSLR to relieve some of the burden on Bob who has done a fabulous job over these last number of years? Just a thought.

The society doesn't have a facebook page but is using one that I created for the general public, members of SIL's working group on Inland Saline Waters, and interested members of ISSLR. I'm adding a report and agenda item for this topic.

Dear All,

I agree with agenda.

2012-2015 I would like to work with all of you in Caspian, Aral, and some other saline lakes in the Russian Federation and in the Former USSR (Kazakhstan, Uzbekistan, and some other countries). In 2012 in September I would like to go with all of you (who have time and money) to the Southern part of the Aral Sea.

At the end of February (27-29) I could be your host in St-Petersburg during meeting on SALINITY FACTOR.

Please give me a list of persons who is ready to come February 27-29 to my Institute and in September to Uzbekistan.

Sincerely yours,

Nick Aladin

Nick, I think you should post this to our Facebook page -- conservation and management of salt lakes. There's 51 persons following discussions there.

I have the impression that most important things have been said about all agenda items. And except for Maria Farias all board members are participating.

I propose to wait for more comments until the beginning of next week and then start with summaries, vote for the venue of the next symposium and other items (formal approval of the financial report etc.) and then close the meeting. The board forum will remain open after that time as well for updates, comments, and anything else you may want to share with the other board members.

I myself will be absent from my office most of this week (Feb. 13-18) and have limited e-mail access in this time.

Dear All,

it will be nice to give some attention to the history of Salt Lakes Studies.

During our Conference on the Aral Sea in October, 2009 we with Prof.Dr. A.OREN wrote a paper about history of Aral Sea and Dead Sea studies.

I would like to advise to write such HISTORIC papers about other famous SALT lakes all over the WORLD!

I am writing already with my Russian colleagues and friends about 3 famous Salt Lakes in my own country:

- 1) Elton Lake
- 2) Baskunchak Lake
- 3) Mogilnoe Lake

May I have a pleasure to invite you to do the same for your own countries Salt Lakes?

Many thanks in advance,

Sincerely yours,

Nick Aladin
